
Upload some photos!

Posted by Brian - 2007/09/27 10:00

I'm tired of seeing my pics scroll on the main page. :S Plus with more I can try adding them into the forums page as well (horizontally across the top).

- 1) Login
- 2) Click on Your Photos under the User Menu.
- 3) Click Media Manager (if shown)
- 4) This is where you can manage the images you've uploaded. Pick an album.
- 5) Click the star icon and upload some photos :ohmy:

(Thanks!)

I saw them & thank you!

For a moment I thought my head was going to explode being forced to look at my crap scrolling by on the main page :p

Brian, please clarify the procedure for uploading photos. I'd like to put some photos into the lens sample folders but cannot figure it out.

Wait, nevermind, I did figure it out. The icons on the manager page are greyed out until you mouse over them. I'm not real software savvy and always have a struggle with it.

I'm still working on improving things here too and need comments like that to make things better and easier...it's an evolutionary process :P

It took me a few moments to figure out the menu structure, but I've uploaded one. :)
