
recent health problems

Posted by Brian - 2007/11/23 04:33

hey all. i'm keeping this as short as possible...my apologies if it seems as if i've "disappeared" recently, but for the past couple of weeks I've been dealing with a very serious health issue involving my diabetes (I've been type-1 dm for 22 years now), an unknown wound on my right foot, and a very serious infection.

anyway, i've been somewhat sick and am right now just trying to get better.

again, my apologies and no, sorry, i'm not dead or quitting on you guys yet :P

Wow, just work on getting better, Brian. Don't worry about this stuff--it'll be here!

You've put a lot of effort and heart into this forum, and although I haven't posted a lot, I've kept up with everything.

You're in my thoughts, man.

Hello Brian,

I've been watching your website for a while now. I went to JS photo early this month during my Taipei visit. It was great, and actually that was my second time on the "camera street" of Taipei. Since I cannot speak Mandarin, communication was a little problem.

I wish to hear more and watch more photo from you. Get well soon !!

Su Chan
